

2024 KENTUCKY EXTENSION

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS CONFERENCE

March 5-8, 2024 | Campbell House Hotel, Lexington, KY

MISSION:

To build on current knowledge related to disaster mitigation, preparation, response, and recovery across multiple disciplines, by bringing together experts from across the University of Kentucky campus to prepare Extension, Agriculture, Public Health, Emergency Management, and other professionals to mitigate, prepare, respond, and recover from natural and man-made disasters.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS FOR CONCURRENT PRESENTATIONS:

- The Extension Disaster Preparedness Conference is seeking proposals that provide specific and/or technical training which enhances the abilities of Extension agents, faculty, specialists, organizations, agencies, and businesses to prepare for, prevent, mitigate, and recover from natural and man-made disasters.
- Examples include but are not limited to: Disaster disruption to food production systems, cyber disruption to food production systems, widespread plant or animal disease, pandemics, climate change, natural disasters, immediate response to disasters, mitigation and preparedness practices, food and agriculture systems in rural and urban communities, and man-made disasters.

PROPOSAL DETAILS:

Proposals should be developed and proposed in 1 hour time increments. Full and half-day proposals will be considered. There may be opportunities for presentations to be offered multiple times.

Submissions are due
Friday, December 15th by 11:59 P.M. ET.

Submitters will be notified via email of their proposal status in early January 2024. To receive notification, please make sure your email address is correct and up to date.

Scan here to start your proposal:

